

ABSTRACT

This study aims to examine the effect of work discipline on employee performance PT Muara Dua Palembang. The sample used in this research is 50 employees of PT Muara Dua Palembang with the method simple random sampling. The data used are primary data and secondary data. Data collection using questionnaires and hypothesis testing were analyzed using Simple Linear Regression using SPSS 20 program. The results of this test states that the discipline of work has a positive and significant effect on employee performance.

Keywords: Work Discipline, Employee Performance