

ABSTRACT

A source of knowledge gained from reading lots of books, looking for information or access to sources of knowledge of the Internet. With a lot of reading, a person is able to expand its horizons with the sciences didapt of reading books. However, interest in reading someone began to decrease. Ranging from children to adults.

Therefore it takes a sense of interest in reading by providing reading an interesting, comfortable, does not saturate, will complete a variety of information and provide internet access facilities are within easy reach. As well as the provision of libraries in each city or region. Where the potential of the public interest in a city to be at capacity. Thus the need for the local library or town so that people ranging from children to adults easily get various sources of knowledge or information.

Local library should be built in order to be able to provide their needs for knowledge and a greater insight by reading a book. Because not every source of knowledge can be trusted for accuracy, then by reading a book can help a person to get information that is accurate, precise and reliable. However, it needs a library with a recreational atmosphere that did not make saturation.

Keywords: information, recreational, library, area.