

ABSTRACT

PALEMBANG CHILDREN DAYCARE AND KINDERGARTEN

Education of children at an early age is an emerging phenomenon discussed. Development of children in the age of the children is very important to determine the development of physical, mental as well as the level of intelligence of children. Further discussion on the development and growth of children at certain ages and provide facilities to suit the needs of children at the time. By conducting observational studies and literature studies will be established a facility that can address the needs of children at age 3 months – 6 years with good standards for growth and development of the child. Guiding and educating children with learning methods while playing. Parents have important rule in the children growth. But, today both of the parents choose working to fulfil the family economy and entrusted their children to babysitter or daycare. Daycare create environment to help children learn since trivial age although they are left by their parent job.

Keywords: Child, Children daycare, kindergarten