

ABSTRACT

Yun Rehna Rosari Sinurat 30.01.12.0057

The Effect of Education about Intravenous Installation to Decrease Mother's Anxiety in Pavilion Clara Myria's Hospital Palembang

SKRIPSI

PROGRAM STUDI S1.KEPERAWATAN

FAKULTAS ILMU KESEHATAN

UNIVERSITAS KATOLIK MUSI CHARITAS

Keywords: Education, Hospitalization, Anxiety, Intravenous Installation (58 pages + 8 tables + 16 attachments)

Background: Health problems that arise in children quite comprehensive and became special family. Where parents a greater role in receiving accurate information in nursing actions and decision-making in the care of children. Just as when infusion which is the act entered into a fluid, or medication directly into a vein in the amount and specific time by using an infusion set. Each action can be influence the parents. Where parents have anxiety about their children because procedures is done.

Purpose: The study aims to determine the effect of education on the infusion of the level of mother's anxiety at toddlers in the Pavilion Clara Myria's Hospital Palembang.

Methods: This study used quantitative of research design, PraExperiment with One Group Pretest-Posttest Design and using purposive sampling the sample consisted of 46 respondents

Results: The results showed a p-value $0.001 < 0.05$, indicating that there is the effect of education on intravenous installation to decrease mother's anxiety at toddlers in the pavilion Clara Myria's Hospital Palembang. It is necessary for the role of nurses as educators to continually educate infusion on maternal anxiety when children toddlers hospitalization.

Bibliography: 2005-2016